The existing view to the northwest from Key Viewpoint 88 on westbound I-8 just east of the La Posta Road overpass. This view is toward the BCD South Option Revision span of I-8, which would pass along the flanks of the hills shown in the center of the image above. As is apparent in the image, the view from I-8 is open and unobstructed and the landscape is predominantly natural in appearance. With the availability of a foreground viewing distance, the transmission line span would be prominently visible to both east- and west-bound travelers on I-8.
