Subject: POWER LINES THRU LEONA VALLEY

To whom it may concern:

I am not sure where to begin. In California there are very few places that have the charm and beauty of Leona Valley. People move here for the country ambience and little town feel. The destruction of the natural landscape and invasion of the proposed power lines are quite frankly ludicrous. Obviously no one from the government has visited our little valley or they would see that by putting in these power lines they would be doing a grave injustice not only the people of Leona Valley but also to the Antelope Valley. I do understand that everyone needs power. Where would we be without it? Is there no where else to put these lines?
