The existing view to the south from Key Viewpoint 87 on La Posta Truck Trail, south of Thing Valley and north of Interstate 8. The I-8 bridge over La Posta Road is faintly visible near the right edge of the image above. As shown above, the landscape is open with predominantly low-growing vegetation and panoramic views are unobstructed. The landscape is natural in appearance and there is no visible evidence of industrial structures or character. The BCD South Option Revision would traverse the rolling hills in the center of the image.
