

A The existing view to the southeast toward the Margarita Peaker site, from Founders Park. The peaker would be located just beyond the Margarita Substation, the A-frame take-off structures of which are barely visible above the ridge.

B This image presents a visual simulation of the Margarita Peaker located to the east of the existing substation. Only the upper portion of the peaker stack is visible above the ridgeline because the peaker is set back from the front ridge.
