Sirs,

I am a 2 decade resident of Leona Valley Ca. I live about $\frac{1}{2}$ mile from your proposed power line route. You will hear about how this line will dramatically effect property value, and how it will increase fire and health issue for the residents, This is all true!

The effect I fear will be the most devastating is the loss of a living entity in California, that is family orientated close knit community.

Leona Valley traces its roots to the 1920s, a rural agricultural development. Since its early start it has nurtured everything that is good about rural California, agriculture, horse and family, It always suprises me when I tell people that I live in Leona Valley, I invariably have some one tell me they know it and love it. By destroying this community, which this will do. you will be robbing NOT only Leona Valley residents but the thousand of visitors we get each year. Expanding the forest route will have minimal effect on the future use of the forest. Please don't destroy my home
