

Chapter 5

List of Preparers

The following Jones & Stokes staff contributed to this report.

Angela Alcala, Wildlife Biologist. B.S., Wildlife, Fisheries, and Conservation Biology, University of California, Davis, 1999. 6 years of experience.

Contribution: Wildlife Field Surveys and Analysis.

Shahira Ashkar, Archaeologist. B.A., Anthropology (archaeology emphasis), California State University, Sacramento, 1987. M.A., Anthropology (archaeology emphasis), University of Arizona, Tucson, 1995. 15 years of experience.

Contribution: Archaeological Field Surveys.

Vicki Axiaq, Environmental Planner. B.A., English, University of Arkansas, Little Rock, 1975. M.S., English, California State University, Sacramento, 1992. 29 years of experience.

Contribution: Project Coordination and Preparation of Land Use, Planning, and Agricultural Resources; Public Services and Socioeconomics; and Transportation and Circulation Analysis.

Dave Buehler, Senior Acoustical Engineer. B.S., Civil Engineering, California State University, Sacramento, 1980. 25 years of experience.

Contribution: Noise Analysis.

Susan Bushnell, Senior Scientist. B.S., Plant Ecology/Conservation and Resource Studies, University of California, Berkeley in 1990. 15 years of experience.

Contribution: Project Management and Biological Resources Peer Review.

Ken Casaday, Senior Geologist. B.A., Geology and Geophysics, University of California, Berkeley, California, 1965. M.A., Geophysics, University of California, Berkeley, California, 1967. 38 years of experience.

Contribution: Geology, Soils, and Paleontology and Hydrology and Water Quality Analysis.

Karen Crawford, Archaeologist. B.A., Anthropology, California State University, Long Beach, 1997. M.A., Anthropology, University of California, Davis, 2000. 8 years of experience.

Contribution: Archaeological Field Surveys and Analysis.

Harlan Glines, Principal. B.A., in environmental studies from California State University, Sacramento, in 1984. 21 years of experience.

Contribution: Project Director and Peer Review.

Rob Preston, Senior Botanist/Wetland Ecologist. B.A., Biological Sciences and Chemistry, California State University, Chico, 1981. M.A., Botany, California State University, Chico, 1983. Ph.D., Botany, University of California, Davis, 1990. 20 years of experience.

Contribution: Botany Field Surveys.

Tim Rimpo, Senior Air Quality Specialist. B.A., Economics, University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Virginia, 1978. M.S., Economics (Natural Resources and Environmental Specialization), Colorado State University, Fort Collins, Colorado, 1981. 24 years of experience.

Contribution: Air Quality Analysis.

Mike Rushton, Senior Environmental Planner/Principal. B.A., Geography, University of California, Davis, 1968. M.A., Geography, University of California, Davis, 1972. 33 years of experience.

Contribution: Energy and Mineral Resources Analysis.