Subject: Fwd: Sunrise PowerLink Route Change

Billie Blanchard, CPUC Lynda Kastoll, BLM The Harris Fire of October 2007 hit my community of Deerhorn Valley the hardest of the ALL areas effected in San Diego County. Here in Deerhorn Valley the total residences lost has topped 150 and this does not include accessory buildings such as; barns, water tanks, tractor sheds and the like. Our community prior to the fire was a sleepy community just east of Jamul with just a little over 600 residences. The financial hardship that was incurred by this community extends past those residents that lost everything and includes those of us that have had several partial losses and replacement costs that were not covered by either our insurance or by FEMA. Now we face another event not unlike the wild fires of October 2007 but this is man made. The proposed Sunrise PowerLink Plan D will have a devastating effect on my community of Deerhorn Valley, Jamul,

California should it be chosen as the final path for the high voltage project. We are trying to rebuild to gain back some of what we lost in just three days. Most of the my community members lost decades of their lives work and memories. Should this project go through it will finish the job the fire started. The home prices will bottom out and land prices will be non existent. Who will buy a home or land with the chance that a cable will break loose and cause another FIRE EVENT not unlike October 2007. Tell me, what more do you think my community can stand? We have just started to deal with the enormous change that the Harris Fire dealt us, and now we are having to deal with an energy company that wants to finish us off (financially). How can this even be justified when the company (SEMPRA) has admitted that it will not even pay for itself. So why are they throwing good money after bad. Perhaps instead allowing the destruction of my community,

Deerhorn Valley, you might look into why SEMPRA wants to spend billions on a project that has no hope of providing enough energy or even paying for itself. My community of Deerhorn Valley has already paid a hefty price in the last six months please halt the Sunrise PowerLink from coming through and adding to our financial burden.
