

Dear Sirs:

April 4, 2008

We appreciate the maps and other information you sent. If you go with the northern route, the path will come within 300 ft. of the Keating/O'Connell parcels in Dixieland. The property has belonged to our family for three generations.

Some of our family members in Texas have humming Electrical towers on the edge of their property. They are no longer able to lease that part of the ranch because cattle can't tolerate the noise. I was told that you moved the line so as not to come close to a dairy near our land.

We had hoped to be able to sell our property in Dixieland and to be able to realize a good return on our investment. If the line goes that close to us, it is certain that we will not be able to sell it or develop it for future use. We have been paying taxes and water availability for over 50 years.

It seems to us, the three families involved, that you will be asking our family to sacrifice a lot to get power to San Diego. Property values will certainly go down.

The line is not needed and will be a disaster to the environment as well as the people involved.

It is inconceivable that the Sunrise Powerlink/ Green Path Southwest project could come along side of our property and render it useless. If this happens, you will be forcing us to let the land go for taxes.

Please rethink your plan and find a better solution.

Sincerely,

Lila K. O'Connell, For Keating and O'Connell Families
