The existing view to the northeast toward El Cajon Mountain from KVP 54 in El Monte County Park. The I-8 Alternative route would traverse the foothills at the base of the mountain. The existing landscape is dominated by the massive form of El Cajon Mountain that rises abruptly from the valley floor. Unobstructed views of the mountain are available from the park and with the exception of some utility poles and light standards within the park, there are no other built features or visible industrial character within the predominantly natural appearing landscape
