The existing view to the west toward the Route D Alternative and the intersection of Boulder Creek Road, Tule Springs Road, and Cedar Creek Road in the valley below. Views of the valley and the mountains beyond are panoramic and dramatic, and on clear days, extend to the Pacific Ocean. The existing landscape is predominantly natural appearing with no apparent industrial character or built features aside from the graded roads. Under hazy atmospheric conditions (as above) the landscape is somewhat obscured (particularly more distant features).
