The existing view to the southeast near the east end of Hauser Canyon, from the Pacific Crest Trail (PCT) on South Boundary Road. The Modified Route D Alternative PCT Option C/D would cross the mouth of the canyon, diverging from the Modified Route D Alternative to traverse the flanks of the ridge shown in the image above. This route option would span the PCT once, to the southwest (right) of the field of view shown here. The landscape of rounded hills and low-growing vegetation is natural in appearance with no visible evidence of industrial character.
